Most clients we work with do not ask for a D&A solution, they ask for a solution to a specific business problem. Understanding your biggest issues will direct you to where you can best focus your D&A capabilities.

UNDERSTAND THAT THE INSIGHTS DO NOT COME FROM DATA ALONE.

2

Δ

They come from analyzing the data and working across silos to map back to the issues and challenges the business is addressing. D&A is a team game.

GO BEYOND POINT SOLUTIONS.

3 Transcend individual projects towards an overarching enterprise-wide data-driven culture that underpins investment decisions.

DEFINE WHAT VALUE YOU ARE LOOKING FOR.

What is it you want to achieve? Is it reduced cost? Better management of risk? Improved customer experience? The reality is that 'value' differs depending on the issue you are dealing with and its relative importance to the business.

8

FOCUS ON CUSTOMERS.

Ask yourself how to use new forms of data and algorithms to automate decision making in order to bring greater customer service and expand your capacity to transact profitably with customers.

ASK THE RIGHT QUESTIONS.

Don't do D&A just for the sake of doing it. Prioritize your insights and understand their potential value (in terms of not only the 'size of the prize', but also in terms of speed and complexity).

MEASURE YOUR SUCCESS.

Use your successes and evidence of the value created to fund more projects and share your expertise and knowledge across the organization.

ENGAGE EARLY WITH STAKEHOLDERS.

Articulate the value of D&A to the business and to investors who increasingly see D&A as a transformative strategy, not simply as a way to bring greater insight to your existing business problems.
